“In a rapidly evolving global environment, where information is free flowing, companies face changing societal expectations. Once an add-on, Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) has become an essential element of companies’ strategy to build a competitive, innovative, cost-effective and sustainable business.

Learn how to integrate CSR at the core of your organisation through a dynamic and interactive course combining lectures by leading CSR professionals and academic experts, group exercises, case studies and exchanges with peers. Join our network of 250 alumni from 44 countries who have attended the course since it was launched in 2008.”

Dr Catherine Ferrier, Program Director
