Company details:
Alcimed is an independent European business consulting company specialized in life sciences, chemistry/materials/energy and aeronautics. We assist managers in their positioning and development strategies, help them grasp opportunities and adapt to threats. The scope of our advisory business encompasses marketing, strategy, and R&D at the interface between science and business.

With a 20% growth per year over the past ten years, we have 180 employees based in France, Germany and Switzerland; our goal is to expand our business to other countries (Belgium, UK and the US) and develop a highly skilled European team of 350 people by 2012.

Job description:
Today we want to recruit R&D, Marketing and Strategy Consultants in Life science in order to assist our clients in Europe.

You will be in charge of the end-to-end completion of projects, from information-gathering to the drafting of recommendations.

This will allow you to learn about our industries' latest issues and communicate with worldwide key opinion leaders (to gather and challenge their point of view).

Working directly with our customers, mostly R&D or marketing directors at major groups in Life sciences (Biotech, Pharma, Healthcare and Food Science companies), your mission will be to create and maintain privileged professional relationships.

Qualifications:
Graduate degree or postgraduate degree (MSc or PhD) in life sciences, biomedical sciences or in business management

Profile:
- passion about science, marketing and innovation
- highly developed relational abilities
- will to take part in the challenge of developing a fast-growing European company
- experience: 0-3 years
- international experiences will be appreciated

Personal attributes:
Motivation – entrepreneurship - strong interpersonal skills - ambition

Languages:
- Fluent written and spoken English
- A good knowledge in French is a bonus

Recruitment procedure:
- CV and cover letter to Marie Peyredieu: applications@alcimed.com, + 33 1 44 30 44 74
- Please mention the job reference when applying
- Interviews in Cologne, Lausanne, Lyon or Paris
