

Samuel Lepine is Maître de conférences at Clermont-Auvergne Université. He works mainly on the philosophy of emotions, the philosophy of well-being and health. He is currently preparing a volume of the journal The Ethics Forum/Les Ateliers de l'éthique, on 'Affective states and well-being', and he is also about to publish a book entitled La Nature des émotions. Finally, he is co-directing a research project in France on the epistemological and ethical issues of the Covid-19 pandemic.