

SOUTENANCE DE THÈSE

MARTHA KABAIRA CHIKOWORE

Proposals for trademark law reform in the African Regional Intellectual Property Organization (ARIPO) : lessons from the international trademark system and from regional experiences (OAPI and European Union)

MARDI 10 FÉVRIER 2026

14H15 - SALLE 3050 - UNI MAIL

This thesis critically evaluates the legal and substantive constraints in ARIPO's trademark framework under the Banjul Protocol, demonstrating how limited harmonization and enforcement hinder regional integration, and proposing reforms informed by international trademark standards and comparative insights from OAPI and the European Union to strengthen Africa's regional trademark system

Jury : Prof. Irene CALBOLI, Texas A&M University School of Law, États-Unis, Prof. Makane MBENGUE, Prof. Jacques DE WERRA (directeur de thèse), sous la présidence du Prof. Luc THÉVENOZ, doyen de la Faculté de droit.
