

ENGLISH AND DEVELOPMENT

Policy, Pedagogy and Globalization

Edited by Elizabeth J. Erling (The Open University) and Philip Seargeant (The Open University)

Description

This book investigates the relationship between English and personal and national development in the era of globalization. It addresses the effects that the increased use of English and the promotion of English-language education are having in developmental contexts, and their impact on broader educational issues, on local language ecologies and on questions of cultural identity.
