The Faculty of Translation and Interpreting (FTI) is one of the most experienced and renowned centres for translation and interpreting education and research in the world. ReMeTIS I: Foundations and Data Analysis is the first part of its doctoral programme, which consists of two separate courses. ReMeTIS I will provide you with a sound methodological basis for launching your research projects.

It includes the following modules:

- 1. Formulating Research Questions
- 2. Theoretical Introduction: Mapping Translation and Interpreting Studies and Interdisciplinarity
- 3. Qualitative Methods
- 4. Mixed Methods
- 5. Research Ethics

You will have access to reading materials, individual feedback, discussion threads and plenary lectures, and will be able to organise your work according to your individual schedules via a one-of-a-kind, interactive platform.
