

Founded in 2020, the European Sickle Cell Federation (ESCF) is an umbrella network of Sickle Cell Disease (SCD) patient organizations. It is a non-profit organization with its headquarters located in Brussels, Belgium. SCD is one of the most neglected non-communicable disease worldwide, affecting more than 20 million patients.

Unfortunately, worldwide, most people die before their 5th birthday because of lack of access to quality healthcare. In Europe, quality-adjusted life expectancy is decreased by half compared to the general population. The mission of the ESCF is to engage in a united, unique and strong voice for people affected by SCD, by promoting, enabling, enhancing and fostering access to high quality of care for all patients.

In order to support our awareness work with the general public and decision-makers, we are looking for translators / interpreters:

- English -> Danish
- English -> Dutch
- English -> French
- English -> German
- English -> Italian
- English -> Norwegian
- English -> Portuguese
- English -> Spanish
- English -> Swedish

Profile required:

- Trained or currently studying translation and interpreting
- Rigorous and reactive attitude
- Strong sense of social justice
- Intellectual curiosity and attention to detail

Deadline: Various regular events (e.g., conference on the 25th and 26th of September, 1st of November)

Duration: The translator / interpreter can commit to punctual event or for longer-term missions

Location: Translations are done remotely and delivered electronically

What we offer:

- A meaningful experience!
- An opportunity to help reduce health inequalities focusing on a neglected cause
- A chance to discover an international NGO

Remuneration packages: To be agreed

Want to join the adventure? Write us an email with your CV to david.issom@escfederation.eu