GLOBAL HEALTH, DRUGS, POLICY AND POWER

- Be part of an intensive course looking at drug policy from a multidisciplinary, governance perspective with a focus on health and human rights, policy and power
- Classes with renowned international and local experts
- The chance to explore the historical, sociological and policy perspectives of three major present day drug issues: opiates overdose epidemics; cannabis regulations and markets, tobacco and nicotine products debates; as well as the power dynamics and economics of how various substances are dealt with in our societies; and potential governance solutions
- You will have the opportunity to visit key places in Geneva such as the World Health Organization and the United Nations
- Attend sessions of the second edition of the Geneva Drug Policy Week that will take place during the same week.

COURSE DIRECTORS

Dr. Jeniffer Hasselgard-Rowe
Institute of Global Health
The University of Geneva

Professor Barbara Broers
Faculty of Medicine
The University of Geneva

Tuition fees
Early Bird (15 February 2020): 800 CHF
Final Deadline (15 April 2020): 1'200 CHF
Special price for Unige students: 300 CHF

3 ECTS credits