

LANGUAGE SUPPORT CLASSES OFFERED BY THE UNIVERSITY OF GENEVA'S MAISON DES LANGUES

The new Bachelor in Economics and Management is a bilingual French-English program. In the first year of the program, all classes will be taught in French and English. In the second and third year, classes will be taught in either French or English.

Students entering the program are required to have a certain level of skill in both languages (B2 level under the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages).

To this purpose, the Maison des Langues of the University of Geneva offers language support classes in French :

and English :

We highly recommend that you attend these classes if your language skills are not up to par.

Check out the Maison des Langues website <http://www.mdl.unige.ch/accueil/> to find out more about the class schedule and registration procedure. During the first two weeks of the Fall semester, a language assessment test will be available online to help you decide whether or not you should sign up for these classes. Each course costs CHF 260.-.

More information on the language assessment test and class schedule will be available on this page at the beginning of the school year.
