

UNIVERSITÉ DE GENÈVE

FACULTÉ DES LETTRES

University of Geneva – Department of English

GRADUATE TEACHING ASSISTANT IN EARLY MODERN ENGLISH LITERATURE
(16TH AND 17TH CENTURIES)

Conditions

Applicants must have an MA in English Literature or a qualification deemed equivalent, be fluent in written and spoken English, and be able to provide a PhD research proposal.

Job Description

This is a 70% post, which increases to 100% in the third year.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach literary analysis skills to first-year students, as well as a BA seminar (2-4 hours a week throughout the year). The post will also involve student evaluation and orientation, and administrative tasks. At least 40% of the post will be devoted to research publications and the preparation of a doctoral thesis, supervised by Prof. Lukas Erne.

Starting Salary

CHF 46,247 pa (ca £ 36,500) in the first year for a graduate teaching assistant who already has an MA; the maximum salary is CHF 78,528 pa (ca £ 62,000) after four years.

Starting Date: 1 August 2021

Length of Contract

The graduate teaching assistant is nominated for an initial period of two years, renewable for two successive periods of respectively two years and one year.

To Apply

Applications must include a covering letter, curriculum vitae, a photocopy of the BA and MA degrees obtained, and a PhD proposal (two to three pages). Applications must be received by the deadline, 12 March 2021, and should be sent in a single PDF file to Prof. Lukas Erne (lukas.erne@unige.ch).