Hotseat: ordinateur portable

The screenshot shows the Hotseat website interface. At the top, the 'hotseat' logo is on the left, and navigation links 'My Thoughts', 'My Favorites', 'Edit Your Profile', and 'Logout' are on the right. The 'Logout' link is highlighted with a blue box. Below the navigation bar, the 'Selected Topic' is 'Personal Finance', with a 'SWITCH TOPICS' button. A text input field contains the question 'What are you thoughts concerning investment bonds? What do you think?' and is highlighted with a blue box. Below the input field is a 'Submit' button and a checkbox for 'Display as Anonymous', also highlighted with a blue box. To the right, the 'Submitted Thoughts' section shows 6 thoughts. The first thought is 'What would be considered a good interest rate for bonds currently?' by an anonymous user, with a 'VOTE 2' and a 'Reply' button highlighted with a blue box. The second thought is 'Do bonds have a lifespan? Example, you have a relative who died and as you clean out their basement you find bonds for a gold mine in the 1930s that no longer exists.' by Kyle Bowen, with a 'VOTE 5' and a 'Reply' button. The third thought is 'Are 'bonds' the pieces of paper that are so often stolen in movies? Like, 10 sheets = $3million? And Jodie Foster has to hide in the panic room?' by Kyle Bowen, with a 'VOTE 3' and a 'Reply' button. The fourth thought is 'Are bail bonds also a form of bonds to invest or are they only there to be used to get a drunken buddy out of jail?' by an anonymous user, with a 'VOTE 1' and a 'Reply' button. A vertical blue box highlights the voting column on the left of the thoughts list. At the bottom left, there are social media links for '#bonds' on Twitter and 'Facebook Application' on Facebook.

Point de vue enseignant

- Adhérents
 - Utilise une fois, utilise toujours
- Septiques
 - Encourage la distraction
 - Messages inadéquats

Conclusion

- Utiliser les appareils que les étudiants possèdent
 - Positif
 - Pas d'achat de la part des étudiants ou de l'institution
 - Logistique facilitée
 - Négatif
 - Accessibilité WiFi: B400, 3 antennes, 90 communications
- Textes courts: nouvelles possibilités pédagogiques
- Moins de temps pour couvrir la matière, mais ...
- Question: qui serait intéressé par un outil similaire ?

wrote: 3) Blame for the 4th Crusade - Dandolo, according to the movie and class discussion, is the one to Blame for the failure of the 4th Crusade due to his greediness to bankrupt the crusaders. It is unfortunate for the goal of the crusaders.

wrote: Richard and Philip- Richard focused a lot on raising money for the crusade, and Philip seemed to just follow around. They needed a treaty with Saladin. Didn't seem to have a great relationship between the two. Saladin- Well respected figure and good leader. Loses control of army for a while, but then comes to join Richard and the two have great respect for each other (treaty of 1192). Saladin dies as a legend. Blame for 4th Crusade- I think Alexius and Boniface are the only people we can Blame for the 4th Crusade. Alexius made Boniface a deal, that if he redirected the crusade towards Constantinople and put Alexius on the throne as emperor, then Boniface would receive part of the empire.

wrote: Enrico Dandolo is to blame?

wrote: Blame for 4th Crusade: Jones seems to interpret the Blame to rest solely on Enrico Dandolo. The argument supported by things like how Enrico enticed the crusaders into contracting for far more than they could pay so that through their debt he could utilize their forces to take over Constantinople and let all the riches so that Venice would be paid. Enrico
