A plus for female researchers

Deadline 28 February 2023

Goal

Make it possible for female researchers at the University of Geneva to free up time in order to enrich their research portfolio, write articles, finalize or publish their thesis, or go abroad.

What is on offer

This program releases its beneficiaries from certain duties for one semester by financing a replacement. Each beneficiary is supported by a female UNIGE professor and mentor.

Who is eligible

Advanced doctoral students and researchers at UNIGE, regardless of the source of payment, who are under contract during the semester of the release.
