

GECOPOL_Graduate

I Geneva Graduate Conference in Political Philosophy

13th and 14th February 2020

Department of Political Science & International Relations, University of Geneva
UniMail, 40 bd. du Pont d'Arve, Genève

Programme

13.02.2020

9:30-10:00 Registration, foyer UniMail

10-11:30 Keynote talk Are democracies with popular voting procedures more prone to populism than purely electoral democracies? - A Theoretical Analysis, Francis Cheneval (Universität Zürich), Room M1140 Chair: Emanuela Ceva (Université de Genève)

11:30-12:00 Tea/Coffee Break

12:00-13:15 Graduate Session 1

a. Social justice – Chair: Jérôme Grand (Université de Genève), room M1130

- Cain Shelley (London School of Economics and Political Science) Just Work, Self-Respect and Trade Unionism
- Temi Ogunye (London School of Economics and Political Science), The conditioning approach to social justice activism

b. Conflict and war – Chair: Carolina Jiménez García (Université de Genève), room M1140

- Niclas Rautenberg (University of Essex), Finding the Conflictual in Conflict – A Phenomenological Analysis of the Alien in Politics
- Ugur Bulgan (Università di Milano) Jus post Bellum: A Sisyphean Challenge?

13:15-14:45 Lunch

14:45-16:00 Graduate Session 2

a. Political representation – Chair: Melis Pinar Akdag (Université de Genève), room M1130

- Fabian Voegeli (York University) Semi-Direct Concordance Democracy and Representation: Staging of Conflict and the Spectre of Consensus
- Pablo Magaña Fernandez (Universitat Pompeu Fabra, Barcelona) Political representation without authorization: the case of nonhuman animals

b. State secrecy and transparency – Chair: Marta Giunta (Université de Genève), room M1140

- Arno Stirnimann (Universität Zurich), Pathology of the Political? – Secrecy in Liberal Democracies

- Rubén Marciel Pariente (Universitat Pompeu Fabra, Barcelona) What citizens should know: a deliberative-republican account

16:00-16:30 Tea/Coffee Break

16:30-17:45 Graduate Session 3

a. State sovereignty and migration – Chair: Esmá Baycan Herzog (Université de Genève), room M1140

- Margherita Galassini (LUISS Guido Carli Roma) State Sovereignty and the jurisdictional boundary problem
- Rufaida Al Hashmi (University of Oxford), Are states justified in selecting immigrants by lottery?

b. Rethinking authority and legitimacy – Chair: Chiara Valsangiacomo (Universität Zürich), room M1130

- Luke Armstrong, (University of Glasgow) A Justification for Considering Neuroscience within Political Liberalism
- Gen Fukushima (Waseda University) Two conceptions of normative legitimacy: on the compatibility of the voluntary rule conception and the right to rule conception of legitimacy

19:30 Conference Dinner, Seppia Bistrot (Avenue du Mail 29)

14.02.2020

9:30-10:45 Graduate Session 4

a. Democratic theory – Chair: Nenad Stojanovic (Université de Genève), room M1140

- Zsolt Kapelner (Central European University) Public Authority, autonomy, and the value of democracy
- Carline Klijnman (University of Genoa), Individual Moral Responsibility for Democratic Outcomes

b. Rights and justice – Chair: Yoann Della Croce (Université de Genève), room M1130

- Gloria Zuccarelli (University of Milan), Asylum-seeking Women and Injustice A Normative Framework
- Davide Pala (University of Manchester) A Republican Approach to Human Rights: The Basic Non-Domination View

10:45-11:15 Tea/Coffee Break

11:15-12:45 Keynote talk Moral Recklessness in Politics, Fabienne Peter (University of Warwick) Room M1140 – Chair: Nenad Stojanovic (Université de Genève)

12:45 Conference ends

Please address all inquiries to the GECOPOL email address: gecopol@unige.ch

For more information, please see: <https://www.unige.ch/gecopol/graduate-conference/>

The conference is sponsored by the Department of Political Science & International Relations and the School of Social Sciences of the University of Geneva.