Institutional Trustworthiness

MANCEPT Workshops, 7 - 8
September 2021

This panel aims to discuss institutional trustworthiness from a philosophical perspective; analyze its conceptual and normative grounds; compare and contrast various normative views of institutional trustworthiness. Papers will engage, inter alia, with such themes as:

- the conceptual links between institutional (dys)functions and institutional trustworthiness;
- the normative relation between internal answerability practices (e.g. transparency requirements, whistleblowing) and institutional trustworthiness;
- the difference between responsive and reliable institutions and trustworthy institutions;
- the relation between institutional trustworthiness and other significant properties of public institutions, such as integrity, accountability, or transparency
