MEDICAL CERTIFICATE FOR AN ACCOMMODATION REQUEST (MCAR)
Somatic Disorder and/or Chronic Illness

If you have a somatic disorder and/or chronic illness and your health condition significantly and lastingly affects your ability to sit your exams under fair conditions compared with other students, you are entitled to request accommodations to compensate for your disadvantages. The Special Needs Office of the University of Geneva assesses each situation individually to determine whether accommodations are justified and may be proposed to limit the disadvantages to which a student is exposed while sitting their exams. It is therefore essential that we receive relevant and complete information from your practitioner.

This document must be completed and signed by your practitioner.
